Dear Miss Weston,

I should not have neglected the advertisements in the other papers; still, I am glad to get yours of yesterday with its several suggestions, which I shall endeavour to follow. It seems to me that a more particular advertisement would be better for insertion in the City papers; - but still as I am not acquainted with the Contents of the Boxes, it would be vain for me to undertake to supply it.

I am very sorry to hear of your illness, but trust that you will not be prevented from being here next week, for at least a part of the time. Miss Henrietta Sargent was here day before yesterday to inquire if I knew where you were, and when you were coming to the city. She said that her sister and herself had been daily expecting you for some time. They are quite well now, having been (as I presume you know) quite ill at the time of the Annual Meeting.

I duly received the Note & purse from Miss Elizabeth -- Wendell brought it to me on St Valentine's day! -- so I was more favoured than many younger men.

With much regard,

Yours

Sam'l May Jr
